Dear Prof. Prof. Dario Martinelli:

I write regarding Peter Schulz's essay, "Subjectivity from a Semiotic Point of View," in Nordic-Baltic Summer Institute for Semiotic and Structural Studies, Part IV. Ecossemiotics: Studies in Environmental Semiosis, Semiotics of the Biocybernetic Bodies, Human / Too Human / Post Human, edited by Eero Tarasti, Richard Littlefield, Lotta Rossi, Maija Rossi (International Semiotics Institute, 2001): 149-159. Prof. Michael Dougherty has provided ample evidence that this essay includes plagiarized material from a volume published by Marquette University Press in the Aquinas Lecture Series: The Self by Anthony Kenney (Milwaukee: Marquette University Press, 1988—ISBN 0874621550). In light of this severe plagiarism of a copyrighted work published by University Press, I request that you retract this work from publication by placing a note on the International Semiotics Institute website. I shall be contacting the author's institution as well. Thank you for your prompt attention to this matter. If I do not hear from you, the next letter will be from Marquette University's Office of General Counsel.

Sincerely,
James B. South
Director, Marquette University Press
